INDIAN AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY

The Indian Auto Industry is highly competitive with a number of global and Indian auto-companies present here with their production facilities already in place.

The industry is expanding capacities, acquiring companies overseas and setting up Greenfield ventures, R&D facilities and design capabilities. Riding on innovation, the global challenges are easily met negating competition from emerging economies.

INDIAN AUTO COMPONENT SECTOR

The Indian Auto Component Industry holds a distinct global competitive advantage in terms of cost and quality. According to the Automotive Mission Plan of the Government of India, the industry is expected to reach a turnover of US$ 200 billion by 2026 from the current US$ 38.5 billion, while exports are expected to scale up to USD 80 billion from the existing US$ 11.2 billion.

Rapid growth in vehicle consumption and the aftermarket in the domestic market together with increasing exports are fuelling the Indian Auto Component Sector. Endowed with world-class quality, advantages of skilled labour and increasing focus on technology, this industry is unbeatable.

THE INDIAN ADVANTAGE

Today, auto component companies have significant opportunities to take the giant leap. On one hand, the domestic market is attracting more OEM players who have a strong need for localisation. On the other hand, recession afflicted global markets are hunting for low cost vendors to optimize their operations. India is poised to be one of the fastest growing automotive markets worldwide over the next decade and the Auto Expo 2016 - Components is its window to the global market.
